10 THE MANNER IN, WHICH THE ABOVE RECORDS WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE

Records are available for public inspection at the offices of CDR during office hours, by prior arrangement with the Information Officer, subject to the grounds of refusal mentioned in the Act.

11 REMEDIES AVAILABLE WHEN CDR REFUSES A REQUEST FOR INFORMATION

11.1 Internal Remedies

CDR does not have internal appeal procedures; the Courts will have to be approached if the request for information is refused. This would apply to any situation in which the requester wishes to appeal a decision made by the Information Officer.

11.2 External Remedies

A requester who is dissatisfied with an Information Officer's refusal to disclose information, may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a Court for relief. Likewise, a third party dissatisfied with an information officer's decision to grant a request for information, may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a Court for relief. For purposes of the Act, the Courts that have jurisdiction over these applications are the Constitutional Court, the High Court or another court of similar status and the Magistrates Court.

12 REQUEST PROCEDURE

The requester must comply with all the procedural requirements contained in the Act relating to the request for access to a record. The requester must complete the prescribed form, as well as payment of a request fee. CDR will process the request within 30 days. The requester shall be informed whether access is granted or denied.

The requester must indicate that he/she requires the information in order to exercise or protect a right.

13 ACCESS TO RECORDS HELD BY CDR

Records held by CDR may be accessed by request only once the prerequisite requirements for access have been met. A requester is any person making a request for access to a record of CDR.

14 REQUESTER

A personal requester is a requester who is seeking access to a record containing personal information about the requester. CDR will voluntarily provide the requested information or give access to any record about the requester's personal information. The prescribed fee for the reproduction of the information requested will be charged.

The requester (other than a personal requester) is entitled to request access to information on third parties. However, CDR is not obliged to voluntarily grant access. The requester must fulfill the prerequisite requirements for access in terms of the Act, including the payment of a request and access fee.

15 REQUEST

A request for access to a record must be made on the prescribed form to the Information Officer at his/her address, facsimile number or e-mail address. The requester must provide sufficient detail on the request form to enable the Information Officer to identify the record requested and the requester. When completing a request on the prescribed form, the requester should also indicate:

- The preferred language if applicable
- Whether the requester wishes to be informed of the decision in another manner in addition to a written reply; and
- A facsimile number and/or postal address.

If a request is made on behalf of another person, then the requester must submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request to the reasonable satisfaction of the Information Officer. If an individual is unable to complete the prescribed form because of illiteracy or disability, such a person may make the request verbally.

A request must be directed to the Information Officer or any authorised persons. The prescribed form must be sent to CDR via post, email, facsimile or may be provided to the requester by CDR. The requester must pay the prescribed fee before any further processing can take place. The form must be adequately completed, with sufficient information particularly so that the official of CDR can identify:

- From where and from whom the request is made;
- What record(s) are being requested;
- What the access fee will be should access be granted.

16 FEES

The Act provides for two types of fees, namely:

- A request fee, which will be a standard fee; and
- An access fee, which must be calculated by considering reproduction cost, search and preparation time and cost, as well as postal cost.

When the Information Officer receives the request, such officer shall by notice require the requester, other than a personal requester, to pay the prescribed fee (if any) before further processing of the request.

If the search for the record has been made and the preparation of the record for disclosure, including arrangement in the regulations for this purpose, the information officer shall notify the requester to pay the access fee, which would be payable if the request is granted. The Information Officer shall withhold a record until the requester has paid the required fees.

The access fee covers the cost for reproduction and for search and preparation, and for any time reasonably required more than the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record for disclosure including making arrangements to make it available in the request form.

17 DECISION

CDR will, within 30 days of receipt of the request, decide whether to grant or decline the request and give notice with reasons to that effect.

The 30 day period within which CDR must decide whether to grant or refuse the request, may be extended for a further period of not more than 30 days if the request is for a large number of information, or the request requires a search for information held at another office of CDR and the information cannot reasonably be obtained within the original 30 day period. CDR will notify the requester in writing should an extension be sought.

18 GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL

The main grounds for CDR to refuse a request for information relates to the:
